SARAH HASSAINE

Global Head of D&I @ResMed

LINKEDIN: www.linkedin.com/in/sarahhassaine

Sarah Hassaine leads D&I at ResMed, building global strategy, expanding their affinity groups, championing inclusive design and accessibility, and working with leaders and stakeholders on employee retention and development.

Previously, she worked at Amazon helping with recruiting and retaining women in Applied Sciences. At Qualcomm, she led their conference engagement, affinity group expansion, leadership support, and inclusion building programs and initiatives for more than four years.

Prior to D&I, Sarah worked in international development and government consulting around the world. She worked for Deloitte as a Navy Contractor and then at InterNews supporting democracy development in the MENA region. She also spent one year in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, leading an organization for up-skilling and training ex-pat women. Sarah is devoted to community empowerment and worked in cross-cultural and intra-faith initiatives. In San Diego, she devotes her time to refugee assimilation efforts, as well as in Mexico with orphanages through the Alma Foundation and Corazon de Vida. She serves on four Boards - the Southwest chapter of Planned Parenthood, the Kim Center for Social Balance championing pay equity, United Women of East Africa, and the North San Diego Business Chamber.

Sarah earned an Executive MBA from UPenn Wharton Business School, MA in Policy from George Washington University, and BA in International Affairs from UC San Diego. She is trilingual, fluent in both French and Arabic. Her strengths lie in strategy, change management, cultural growth and transformation, branding, PR, reporting, and community outreach.
